Lots of Roses to choose from!

Beautiful Perennials!

Reminder - Time to Fertilize!

October is the last time to fertilize for the year. When you feed your roses in October it sets them up for a great bloom for the last part of the year. I always enjoy a big bouquet on the table for Thanksgiving and Christmas!

I like using G&B Rose & Flower or GroPower Plus. I alternate using one, one time and then the other next. Follow the directions because each one is different. I recommend not fertilizing November through mid-February. This gives the plant a chance to rest.

Chilli Thrips again?

I have been getting a number of calls about Chilli Thrips. Usually at this time of year insect damage is declining as the weather gets cooler and days shorter. I am guessing that the shots of hot weather we have been having has boosted the Chilli Thrips populations.

As a reminder, Chilli Thrips are microscopic but their damage is not. Thrips scrape the cells and then suck up the juice on soft stems and leaves. Consequently the cells die and you will see black streaks of death on the new growth.

Control is achieved by using the organic spray with Spinosad in it. We carry Monterey Garden Insect Spray. Trim the plant back as the damaged stems will not recover. I have attached a handout that you can download with more information.
